YMBL SECURES 200 MEMBERS

'NEW BLOOD' ADDED

No Report Made by Committees at Refineries

With 200 new members already accounted for and a majority of the team captains set to report, the Young Men's Business League membership drive is already a success and at least 300 new members will probably be added, Ed Lohmann, generalissimo of the drive, announced this morning.

"The great thing of the drive as I see it, is that we are getting a bunch of young fellows who have never lived up before. One drive member turned in 25 memberships yesterday and 21 had never belonged to a Y. M. B. L. before," Lohmann said.

The committees working on the refineries are yet to report and a number of new members from there are expected, some of the downtown committees are also still out and an exact estimate is problematical as to the number actually signed up.

The drive continues through Monday, President Reiche said today.

WOMEN DEMAND CLEAN POLITICS

Milady of Port Arthur to Cast Her Ballot

BY GRACE FOOTE

The News Staff

Clean up politics!

That's the cry of Port Arthur women who on Saturday will cast their ballots not only for the man they think will be capable of holding office, but whose character is indicative of the kind of officeholder he will make.

Will the women's vote of Port Arthur amount to anything? This question is being asked in a variety of ways by Port Arthur politicians.

There is a shock due to old-fashioned anti-suffragists who still retain the idea that woman's place is in the home and who have no right voting. For indications point to the fact that practically every woman in Port Arthur paid her poll tax and will vote on Saturday. More than 600 women are eligible, according to C. C. Lohmann, city tax collector, and if they turn out and cast their votes Saturday their vote will be a sizeable factor.

This year's election is the greatest adventure in politics the women of this country have ever known because of the many phases entering into the election. Party affiliations will not hold the women in any particular candidate nor will they be influenced by any striking accomplishment of a man if they feel he is not worthy of office. These are just a few of the opinions drawn from interviews with Port Arthur women, with the outstanding fact: Misdemeanor candidates are not favored.

Basically, Integrity Count.

In speaking of the coming election and the candidates in general Mrs. K. A. Young, president of the Department club, said: "I believe the women are going to acquaint themselves with the characters of the candidates and vote for those who have the best records for honesty and integrity, regardless of whether they know them personally or not. I do not believe they will be influenced by their husbands or the fact that the candidate

Next Regular Quarterly Conference in August

Complete harmony witnessed the formation of the Sabine District Industrial association Thursday night at the First Methodist church, roof garden at a banquet attended by 100 Chamber of Commerce officials and guests from Beaumont, Port Arthur, Nederland, Orange and East Arthur.

All gates political and factional which were slightly glowing, via hearsay preceding last night's special convalescence dinner first to mild breezes and ultimately merged into complete calm. This evening was even less stormy than the initial meet held at Beaumont last May.

75 Values Served

With some 25 Beaumont chamber officials heading the list of the Beaumont delegates, complete quotas from Orange, Nederland and Beaumont in like proportion were present. Port Arthur's entire chamber official personnel was on hand along with a large number of Y. M. B. L. directors.

Following the banquet held on the second floor of the church, the association's business session began on the roof garden.

President Howard Smith of the Port Arthur chamber as chairman of the evening, briefly reviewed the purpose of the meeting. President Smith then called on J. A. Glen of Beaumont to present the recommendations of the "Big Five" committee which with one chamber official from each city in the district, had met

LOAN DEMANDED ON REPARATIONS

Allied Conference Deadlocked Over Security

LONDON, July 25.—The entire experts report is based upon the conviction that a reparations settlement is impossible without economic rehabilitation of Germany. This latter, it is agreed, is impossible without the immediate assistance of a large international loan and the assurance that Germany will not be hampered in the future in carrying out her reparations obligations by an independent action of any power, such as France's present economic control of the Ruhr. This $200,000,000 loan, which is the cardinal feature of the experts' plan, necessarily fails if the Anglo-American bankers do not obtain from the London conference satisfactory security for the loan.

Now the bankers claim there will be no such security and that they are, therefore, unable to float the loan in question if the question of Germany's default in any of the provisions of the "expert" reparations scheme and application of penalties for such default is left to the decision of the reparations commission which would mean the decision of France, for a French chairman holds the deciding vote on the commission. Hence, the present difficulties of the London conference.

BEAUFORT, Miss., July 25.—The Cupid epidemic which has been going the rounds in the Jefferson Davis Old-Soldiers Home, is about to remove two more elderly inmates from the plumes of single-blessedness. Mrs.

Mary Sanders, 74, already seven times married, six of the former husbands being Confederate veterans, and A. J. "Uncle Pat" McLaughlin, a bachelor, 104 years old, also an inmate of the home, will act as best man.

William M. Lempton, millionaire philanthropist, will "promote the affair" and give the happy couple a honeymoon tour.

The Sanders-Fuller wedding will make the third at the home within a few weeks.

Fred P. Dodge Denies Refinery 'Trade' On Vote for Candidates

Texas Superintendent Says No Agreements Have Been Made to Back Certain Men

The following letter by Fred P. Dodge, general superintendent of the Texas Company here, is in reply to a political story printed in The News Thursday.

"Law adding citizens will not be on election and I shall do all within my power to prevent the limit anybody whom evidence can be found against for waging on the results of tomorrow's balloting," the official said.

O'Neal retorted, he said, the manner in which "alleged law adding citizens" and "known corner church members" are being "promoted" at elections and ship through the affairs and buy house from bootleggers.

OLD SKELETONS BARED TO GAZE

Time-Honored Political Custom Still Holds Good

BEAUMONT, Tex., July 25.—The time-honored political custom of baring old skeletons to the gaze of the public, who showed more than a willingness to knock bones run in the role of pitcher, throws the right kind of a ball.

Today was cleanup day. Candidates were making final canvasses, closely watching fences for breaks.

A list of Port Arthur's six voting places, with boundaries, will be found on page 2.

and on the anxious seat against eleventh-hour bombs.

The situation today seemed little changed except for an added degree of interest on the part of the voters public, who showed more of a disposition to rally and join in the conversation. Favorites of yesterday are still the favorites today.

Candidates yesterday and today realized, apparently, the significant effect of the Port Arthur vote, since practically all of the county clerk found occasion to look the local situation over.

Besters Frightened Off

One development of the day was a denial by Fred P. Dodge, superintendent of the Texas Company here, that the Texas Company was in any way concerned in rumored election trades.

The battling factor, too, had lulled following announcement by J. L. O'Neal, assistant district attorney, that names of those engaged in the election pastime would be presented to the grand jury. As a result money which was reported in existence just a few days ago apparently was chased to cover, or resolved itself into an affair strictly between friends.

The Port Arthur vote will determine the majority of winning candidates. This prophetic utterance of the part of some of the candidates themselves bids fair to come true tomorrow. Port Arthur will have a voting strength of approximately 6,000, practically a third of the county total. Five hundred women are qualified for the ballot in Port Arthur. Interest among them in the primary is reported keen, with little doubt expected that practically all will go to the polls.

Against the Skeletons

Veterans who have gone through a dozen campaigns stood by and watched the usual eleventh-hour election rumors spring into being. Gaping, hollow-eyed skeletons rattled from closets dusty since the last campaign, and stalked into political conversation on a dozen corners.

Effect of this remains to be seen, but today there was a disposition on the part of the average voter to see it in a humorous light, since opening of the closet has been a time-honored pastime by rival candidates and their friends since the days of the Roman senate and many would be disappointed if it failed to take place. That true to custom it has taken

ENFORCEMENT ISSUE

Sheriff Candidates Brought In in Speech

Ministers of Jefferson county gathering in Beaumont Thursday night by Rev. E. C. Minter, minister of a Methodist Episcopal church, south, at Woodville, Texas, formerly of Silsbee. A street appeal was made by Rev. Minter for a full support of Baker at the polls Saturday, declaring the election of Baker means for law enforcement in Jefferson county.

This was repeated to an audience of over 1,200 Port Arthur voters Thursday night by Rev. E. C. Minter, minister of a Methodist Episcopal church, south, at Woodville, Texas, formerly of Silsbee. A street appeal was made by Rev. Minter for a full support of Baker at the polls Saturday, declaring the election of Baker means for law enforcement in Jefferson county.

Appeals for More Law

Prefacing his appeal for Baker's support for sheriff with an appeal for undivided support to the principles of law enforcement, regardless of all religious, fraternal or other affiliations, Rev. Minter then launched into a tirade that Baker be elected, sheriff of Jefferson county. In his opening remarks Rev. Minter characterized law enforcement as the main issue in the election, and said that the law is the backbone of the state and the backbone of the people.

"From all sections of Jefferson county citizens are pleading for more cooperation from the sheriff's department," Rev. Minter said, "and the people of Port Arthur need a degree of help from the sheriff."

THURSDAY HOTTEST DAY OF YEAR HERE

Thursday passed into Port Arthur's history as one of the hottest days ever recorded in this city.

At 1:20 p. m. Thursday the mercury climbed to 97 degrees in the shade, Ernest Carson, U. S. weather bureau observer, said today. Not since August 22, 1921, when the thermometer registered 98 degrees at 5 o'clock in the afternoon has such a high temperature been set here, Carson said.

Records in the weather bureau observer's office disclose that a temperature of 100 degrees occurred in Port Arthur on June 18, 1918, at 6 o'clock in the afternoon, this being the highest ever recorded here, Carson said.

A north wind and other conditions similar to present weather in this city, also are shown in Carson's records about the time of the peak temperature in 1918.

RICHARD LOEB

SAYS BRAZEN SEARCH HELD

Reporters Joined Murderer In Store Canvass

CRIMINAL COURT ROOM, CHICAGO, July 25.—Richard Loeb brazenly directed a hunt for the kidnapers and slayers of Robert Franks two days after the killing. Howard Mayer, Chicago reporter, told today that the "big game" was being hunted by Loeb and Leopold, Franks' father-in-law.

Mayer said he was walking on the University of Chicago campus when he met Loeb. The conversation turned to the murder.

Conversation Revealed

"Loeb said to me he did not think that the kidnapers would meet Jacob Franks, the father, to collect the $10,000 ransom demanded in the letter, or that they would be at the drug store where the father was directed to for further instructions. He suggested that I make a round of several southside drug stores in the hope that I might find the one to which Jacob Franks was directed."

"With two other reporters, I started a search of several drug stores, Loeb went with us in an automobile. It was raining."

"After several attempts we found a drug store in which a negro porter told us that on the afternoon previous two calls had come for a 'Mr. Franks'. The porter told us he had told the person who had called that there was no Mr. Franks there and that ended the conversation."

"As we left the drug store Loeb said to me: 'See that's what comes from reading detective stories. I told you you'd find the drug store. I've given you fellows a scoop for your papers.'"

"Then we drove around to the Frank's home and told Mr. Frank's wife found the drug store. Loeb was with us while we talked to Mr. Frank.

"Then we went out to buy a paper to see our stories in print. When we got one Loeb asked to keep it and we let him out of the automobile to go home."

Loeb at Frank's Home

Alvin Goldstein, another reporter, former fellow student, testified that he met Loeb in front of the Frank's home on the evening of May 23.

"Loeb asked me what it was all about," referring to the excitement, and I told him of two incidents.

"Then I saw him again the next day with a group of friends. They had several newspapers dealing with the murder. One of the boys asked Loeb whether he had known Robert Frank's and what sort of a fellow he was. Loeb replied that he knew him and he was the kind of a kid that anybody would kidnap and kill."

Goldstein said that Loeb used certain "expressions" and at the command of the prosecution the witness enunciated them.

Bird Reporter Testifies

James Mulroy, the bird member of the reporters' party, corroborated the testimony of the previous witnesses.

"As soon as we found we had the right place," Mulroy said. "I went into a telephone booth and attempted to trace the call. When I did this Loeb came running up and said, 'Don't use my name, will you?'"

"I told him I would not."

"I asked whether Loeb didn't think he was originally a kidnapping affair, but that the kidnapers got frightened and murdered Bobby."

"Loeb replied, 'well if I was going to murder anybody I would murder a ducky little — like Bobby Olin.'" four. Frank's was out of the court room when the boys were questioned and did not hear the epithets describing Bobby. Loeb and Leopold listened to the testimony with intense interest.

Goldstein was recalled to the stand and asked whether he had any further conversation with young Loeb. Goldstein said on one occasion when he was at the Frank's home he met Loeb in the front yard. Several other people were standing around Goldstein said. We were talking in a general way about the Frank's case, describing several theories, the newspaper reporter testified. Young Loeb shook his head vigorously and said:

"Fellows, this is certainly a horrible crime. If they ever catch the fellows that did the killing they certainly ought to be strung up."

MARKETS

WALL STREET JOURNAL FINANCIAL REVIEW

NEW YORK, July 23.—Percentable slackening of the forward movement in the general list occurred in today's session. But despite the failure of the main body of stocks to make further progress on the up side, the market gave convincing demonstrations of its underlying strength in the securities with which passing of the Bethlehem dividend was received. For an industrial corporation of this magnitude to discounting payments on its common stock was an event of more than ordinary importance in speculative annals. Yet the market placidly welcomed it as an incident, whose significance related to the past. It was evident that the decline in Bethlehem from the year's high above 42 had foreshadowed the suspension of common dividends so that the actual occasion found the news discounted.

8 GIVEN LIMIT IN CITY COURT

Jury Verdicts Assess Heavy Fines on Defendants

Special to The News

Appealing cases from the Session of the judge to a jury in corporation court will not be so popular to Port Arthur from now on, city hall officials predicted today, following the three-day session before Judge Shivers when eight of nine cases tried were found guilty and the limit fine assessed in five instances.

Julius Shivers called his jury docket Wednesday morning and went straight through all day. Thursday the court held the jury on duty all during the morning and afternoon. The court then told the jury to come back for night duty Thursday evening.

Total Fines of $1,074

A total of $1,074 was netted the city as a result of the jury action. It is estimated if the defendants had pleaded guilty the city would not have received a fourth that much.

The following were found guilty and sentences passed in the three-day jury session:

Morris Winters, vagrancy, instructed verdict from court of not guilty.

Mrs. Ed Goss, traffic violation, $1 and costs.

Joe Clark, vagrancy, two cases, fine of $200 in each case.

Marcella Chadwell, vagrancy, $200.

"Doc" Mason, vagrancy, $200.

John Domingue, $200, vagrancy.

Dorothy McFarland, vagrancy, $30.

Mrs. J. L. Courtney, vagrancy, $25.

GARNER DENIES MINTER CHARGE

Says Speech Eleventh Hour 'Struggle of Loeb'

Special to The News

BEAUMONT, Texas, July 23.—"Looks like the eleventh-hour struggle of a drowning man," Sheriff Tom Garner declared here this morning when friends told him of the anti-Garner speech made at Port Arthur, Thursday night.

"It is not necessary to insult a speaker to tell the people of Jefferson county who has done the work here," Garner said. "For there are plenty of good men who know more about the work in the sheriff's department than some outsider who must necessarily receive his information second-hand."

Sheriff Garner also maintained that the most perfect harmony existed between the sheriff's department and the police departments of both Port Arthur and Beaumont.

"Mr. Minter was brought to Port Arthur by the Farm-Labor element presumably to make an address on the 'Moral Issues and Law Enforcement' when as a matter of fact it was simply an anti-Garner talk," the sheriff said this morning, declaring that in his entire address, Minter did not mention another candidate for a public office.

Garner denied that he had ever accepted worthless bonds. "We are governed by the regulations filed here in the county with reference to the bonds," he added, Garner said. He stated that in a very few instances the county had afterwards lost money, and that he did not believe he could be held responsible for the financial downfall of a company.

"People Know Records"

"The people of Jefferson county know what I have done during the time I have been in office," Garner said. Despite the heavy work of the sheriff's department the last year no extra deputies have been added to the payroll. They have worked unceasingly and untiringly, and a 24-hour day is not uncommon for any of them.

"There has never been a shadow of suspicion on any member of the sheriff's department during the time Garner has been in office," the sheriff declared. "My deputies are all the highest type of men, and my office is probably the only one in the county where some member of the force at sometime or another has not been charged with some law violation, either minor or serious. The majority of the deputies have been in office with me since my election and all have co-operated in every possible way for law enforcement."

their activities extending to all parts of the county," Garner declared.

Motorboat and Two Racing Shells Added

CISCO, Texas, July 25.—Cisco's bathing beach is perhaps the only one of the kind in the state. A flight of steps leads down from the cliff of solid rock 400 feet to the surface of the lake. A boardwalk, several hundred feet long, leads from the steps to the edge of the raft, which consists of the raft is built of substantial timbers and held in position with weights, about 100,000 pounds of iron being used. The proper depth is obtained by piers from a few feet to 20 feet in height.

A wire netting is placed securely about the entire pool, making it safe for the most inexperienced of swimmers. The enclosed beach is 100 feet square. A gate and steps from the beach leads to the deep water of the lake. A diving board, floating rafts make this a most completely equipped place to enjoy aquatic sports.
A trim, graceful motorboat is now on route to leave. The vessel is 16 feet in length and will seat eight persons. It is equipped with a steel air chamber at each end of the boat and life-saving cushions. Two racing shells, such as are used by the college of the "cat," will soon be on the lake.

Mr. Marshall, owner and manager of the beach, states the crowds are growing each day with about one-half of the bathers from adjoining towns.

To the Voters of Port Arthur and Port Arthur Greater Industrial District—The Honorable Clarence Gilmore and W. A. Nabors For Railroad Commissioners

These two men are at present members of this important body, Mr. Gilmore as Chairman and Mr. Nabors as a member and their service has been of a high character. They are both unusually well equipped for this important work, both keen students of modern transportation problems and well versed in the states transportation facilities as a whole and with the needs of our local situation particularly.

These men know the needs of Texas. They are familiar with our conditions at Port Arthur. They have recently recommended to the Interstate Commerce Commission and gave their endorsement to the Duff Railroad. The people know that these men will give a square deal to all. Vote for your own interests. Vote for Clarence Gilmore and W. A. Nabors on July 26th.

Mr. Nabors will bring to the Commission a training that is vitally necessary, his broad shipping interests as a large shipper of truck and farm products having given him a very real insight into the needs of the shipper and his training as a lawyer, teacher and successful grower, furnishing the trained mind necessary to the successful application of this knowledge.

Mr. Gilmore's longer experience on the board, with his vast knowledge of the actual work done from the Commission, his thorough grasp of what is needed of the Commission, his unfailing devotion to the best interests of the State's welfare as a whole, makes his re-election to this board imperative. Port Arthur should give these two men, Gilmore and Nabors, a handsome vote. We believe she will.

New and Interesting Are The Buckles, Buttons And Straps On Latest Shoes

HOW many children have been puzzled over the first lines of that old nursery rhyme: "One two, buckle my shoe." For such buckles as we had, until quite recently, didn't buckle at all. They were attached to the front of the slippers of pumps merely as a matter of adornment. Strictly speaking they were not buckles at all. And they did have a trying way of getting loose from their moorings and falling by the wayside.

There are still such purely ornamental buckles, and shoemakers seem lately to have learned the trick of attaching them just all chance unobtrusively. Then there are buckles that really buckle in the good old traditional manner—thus serving an actual purpose as well as offering excuse for the use of some ornamental material or other. Sometimes these buckles are covered with leather, and sometimes they are entirely of wood. There are steel buckles and for evening rhinestone buckles, colored stone buckles and buckles of silver and gilt.

One of the smartest things for shoe decoration is the small ornamental disk—called button, usually, though it no more buttons than the usual buckle. The shoe simply placed in a conspicuous place for decoration.

Some of these so-called buttons are made up of small cut-out beads. Others are of enamel, sometimes with inlaid designs of silver. Sometimes with flowers or other decorations of contrasting enamel.

Sometimes there is a row of three of these buttons at the instep of the slipper—larger above, smaller below, or the sizes reversed. The smartest place for the ornament of the shoe is at the instep now, rather than at the side of the ankle. Often a 1-2-3 button on the instep, at the instep, is a small button, and the side buckle, really used to keep the strap in place, will be quite plain.

Among the new shoe ornaments being shown now is a rosette of brown leather with a center of bronze beads. Then there is the big button of cut glass surrounded with small bright blue beads. Another button is black enameled with a chevron of silver, and still another attractive one is of colored enamel and a shield of black and gold.

ALEC WOULD LIKE TO CUT WHITE HOUSE LAWN AND 'MEBBE' HE WILL GET HIS BIG CHANCE

By MAURICE HENLE
Special Writer

GLEN COVE, N. Y., July 25.—The big moment in the life of Alec Laskowski is at hand.

Alec is the gardener on the estate of John W. Davis, democratic presidential nominee, in this pretty Long Island suburb. He trims the shrubbery and mows the lawn; he sprinkles the vast stretches of green and keeps the garden the way it should be kept.

And now John W. Davis may move into the White House down on Pennsylvania avenue, Washington, D. C. U. S. A. And the White House down on Pennsylvania avenue has a big lawn to take care of. And Alec has heard of that lawn. And he is anxious to tackle the job of keeping it in trim.

Alec is a Pole. For five years he has worked as gardener for Davis.

"He's fine man," smiles Alec. "Comes out sometimes and talks about the lawn. He's very big man. No stuck up at all."

"And Alec," his interviewer said, "how about the White House lawn? Wouldn't you like to keep it in trim, eh?"

"I like it very much."

"Though Alec doesn't know it, the White House lawn isn't a bit more difficult to keep than the Davis estate lawn. Both are vast affairs. Each stretches away seemingly forever and is well dotted with shady trees and abundant shrubbery. Each has a beautiful garden with a riot of color."

The Davis estate here is one of the most spacious in a community that has nothing but wonderful "places," as they are known in these parts. The estates are enclosed by walls and the approach to the houses along a private driveway half a mile long.

The Davis house itself is typical of the country. It is three stories of frame stucco. There is nothing pretentious about it, except its setting. It's the kind of a place one knows would be comfortable.

The request is expected to be forwarded to the president within a week. Mr. Coolidge, it is reported here, will extend Butler's furlough.

Tell Girls

And women what I do for you

By Edna Wallace Hooper

My office sends me countless letters which thank me for my new beauty and new youth. Please don't do that. Just tell to other girls and women what you've found.

I am simply passing on to others what great scientists gave me. The helps that made me a famous beauty, then kept my youth, beauty to my grand old age.

Those helps number 52 but I use it as a powder base. Never is my skin without it. I have never heard of a cream which brings anything like its results.

When you use any one of them you apply quite a number of the best beauty helps in existence.

One is a cold cream which I call my Youth Cream. It combines products of both lemon and strawberry. Also all the best that science knows to foster, feed and protect the skin. I use it as a night cream, also daytime as a powder base. Never is my skin without it. I have never heard of a cream which brings anything like its results.

WOMEN DEMAND

A fellow townsman, for if they think they should vote for an outsider more worthy than the fellow townsman, then they will vote for an outsider.

Civilization in politics was especially stressed by Mrs. Young as an essential which will be demanded by women. She declared that unless women to clean up politics they will have done nothing with the ballot.

Want Bigger Part

"The time has come for the women of Port Arthur to have more voice in civic affairs," Mrs. Young declared. "The Department club is comprised of more than 250 women, who are going to make their work community work this coming club year. One of the very big issues to be brought up this coming year is a woman on the police force and the time has come for the women of Port Arthur to demand such. We need a woman to look after our girls, and we are going to make this a more dominant issue in our city later."

"From constable to president, I will vote for prohibition," declared Mrs. G. H. Eubank, prominent club woman. "We want men in office who will uphold the constitution," Mrs. Eubank said. "And if there men cannot uphold prohibition, then they are opposed to the constitution and cannot uphold it."

Ability Exerted

Mrs. C. E. Earhart, who is actively identified with church and civic activities in Port Arthur, said that she thought the women of Port Arthur will vote for the men they think capable of holding office regardless of what their husbands think, and what interest is brought to bear on any special candidate. "Personally, I am going to vote for the man who is mentally, spiritually and morally fit to hold office," she said. "And I think I am speaking for a great majority of Port Arthur women."

Mrs. W. S. Carter, president of one of the largest women's Sunday school classes in the city, said that the situation today demands the women's support.

"Women's influence in politics is increasing," said Mrs. Carter. "They are studying the situations and questions more and more and are learning how to voice their opinions with the ballot. Regardless of party affiliation, the women of today are going to vote all the way around for men morally and mentally capable of holding the offices they seek."

Of course, little Marquise, I dropped all preparations for my party and just set down and waited.

I wonder if you know what it means to wait for the inevitable? No torture in all the world is so terrible when you know that nothing that you can do will change in any way what is coming to you, and you must wait and wait.

I thought over carefully all the peculiar incidents that had occurred since Alice had clasped the pearls about my neck on my wedding day. I told myself that although I had not told Jack about them, yet I myself did not know where they were real until months afterward.

Whatever I thought, however, I always came back to the fact that Jack, filled with rage, would soon be with me asking for information, and that he would probably be more furious when he learned the truth. I wondered wearily if I could go on with the party if the whole matter was not settled some way before the next night.

Through all these unhappy thoughts came the question: Who could have told Jack? No one but Karl, Alice, Ruth and myself knew the whole story, and I am sure not one of them would have told. I was sure of Karl and Ruth, but—surely my sister would not do such a deplorable thing.

The clock kept ticking. "Wait and see—wait and see—wait and see—" While I was trying with what patience I had to take the insistent little clock's advice, the phone again rang. Sally Atherton was on the wire.

"Say, Leslie, I don't want to butt in on your affair, but I just want to put you wise to something I think you ought to know. I heard your husband telephoning you about a string of pearls. I didn't mean to listen, but he was so excited he was talking at the top of his voice, and

Another Handicap Faced by the Dainty Dressers

Is that fabrics are not always what they seem. True, they may be really beautiful to the eye and not have fine serviceable qualities.

The present vogue for printed crepes has worked a hardship on wearer and cleaner alike.

Seldom do the colorings of the design print entirely through the crinkles and of course, when such surface colorings are going through the cleaning process they are apt to "run."

However, we are on the qui vive to handle these problems of cleaning in the best possible way.

GUILT DENIED

Two Slayings to Die in One
Spring of Trap

MERIDIAN, Miss., July 23.—Resigned to their fate, Frank Atkinson and Clyde Greer, convicted murderers of H. H. Bryant near here last year, spent their last hours before walking to the gallows this afternoon with their families. The wives and children of the condemned men spent most of last night in the cells of Atkinson and Greer.

Both men reiterated their innocence and declared that if they killed Bryant, they were "too drunk" to remember it.

Barring intervention from the governor's office, Greer and Atkinson will stand back to back on the scaffold sometime between 2 and 4 o'clock this afternoon and be sent to their death with one spring of the trap.

ITALIAN AVIATOR HOPS OFF ON WORLD TRIP

PISA, July 24.—Lieutenant Locatelli, of the Italian air service, took off today from Pisa and headed northward from Paris, the first leg of a flight to New York.

The Italian planned to fly on to London and Brough, joining the American world flyers there and accompany them across the Atlantic. An enthusiastic crowd cheered his departure, which signified Italy's entrance into the world contest for long-distance flight supremacy.

She Is a Blacksmith!

It takes muscles to be a blacksmith. But Mrs. George Byus of Oklahoma City, now a full partner in her husband's business, has plenty. She got it, she says, washing and keeping house for a husband and family of nine. All nine of the children were orphaned and her husband adopted. Now, at 30, since the boys and girls are all married, she has taken up her work at the forge. She does every kind of work her husband does except the actual shoeing of horses. "When it comes to pulling them on—well, I let George do it," she says. "I've never got over being afraid I might get kicked."

Shenandoah Completes 500-Mile Journey

LAKEHURST, N. J., July 24.—The naval dirigible, Shenandoah, was landed safely at the air field here at 8:20 a. m. today after having traversed aloft more than 24 hours.

The big air cruiser made a 500-mile flight over Scranton, Pa., and Birmingham, N. Y., yesterday but was unable to land when she reached her home station because of unfavorable weather. She cruised six hours above the air field before finally being brought down and got under control of a landing crew.

WHY THE PEOPLE OF PORT ARTHUR SHOULD VOTE FOR REPRESENTATIVE B. E. QUINN FOR COUNTY JUDGE

The following is copied from the Port Arthur News of May 25, 1934:

"QUINN NOT IN THE RACE AGAINST PORT ARTHURIAN

A proposition to withdraw from the race for county tax assessor and enter the lists of candidates for the county judgeship now under advisement by Representative B. E. Quinn, depends upon a definite assurance that he will not be opposing a Port Arthur candidate in the county judge race. Quinn declared here Saturday.

I would not under any consideration withdraw from the race for tax assessor and run for county judge until convinced that Port Arthur does not intend to run a man for that position," Quinn said.

Representative B. E. Quinn has stated through the press from time to time that Port Arthur, with a third of the population of the county and a third of property values of the county should elect some of the county officials and for that reason asks that Port Arthur run a man for county judge this year. He waited to see whether or not Port Arthur would put out a man and announced for the office only after his friends here assured him he would not have an opponent from Port Arthur and that Port Arthur would be strong for him for county judge.

Under the circumstances his friends here feel that he should be elected by one of the largest majorities ever given a candidate in Port Arthur.

Mr. Quinn has lived in Jefferson county for 22 years and his honor has never been questioned by any man during that time. Rev. V. A. Gentry knew him 15 years ago in Beaumont. Ask him what kind of a man he is.

Go to the polls and cast your vote for Mr. Quinn.

TRI-CITY MEET ROTARY'S PLAN

To Entertain High Officials
On Gulf

Port Arthur Rotarians will meet with the Beaumont and Orange Rotary clubs about the middle of August, the occasion being a visit of high Rotary officials to the gulf as fishing guests of President J. D. Friedman of Beaumont. Invitation of the Beaumont club was read and adopted at today's luncheon meeting of the Rotary club at the Plaza.

Tom Hughes, just returned from the Toronto Rotary international convention, told the local members at the luncheon yesterday several things about Canadian hospitality. On his return, Hughes stopped in Vermont and in Illinois.

Hill Johnson, of the Model laundry of Galveston and of the Cascade laundry of Port Arthur, was introduced to the club as a guest of the day.

TO PREACH SERMON ON POSSIBLE THINGS

Are all things possible with God? Such is the question often asked when one doubts God's handwork and his omnipotence.

And Sunday night Rev. R. R. Yelderman, pastor of the First Christian church, has declared that he will name seven specific things God cannot do, in his sermon, "Seven Things God Can't Do." These seven things all deal with life here and hereafter, according to Rev. Yelderman.

Special music will be rendered during the evening church worship. A band solo will feature the musical service and will be sung by an out-of-town artist. Each Sunday evening twelve electric fans are being used to cool the auditorium and those attending the services will find a cool, comfortable place in which to worship.

TANLAC GAVE RELIEF IN TEN DAYS' TIME

"Stomach trouble of several years' standing had brought me down to where neither my relatives and friends or myself thought I could live six months longer. But since taking Tanlac I am stronger than I ever was and enjoy life as never before." This is the truly remarkable statement of J. L. Montgomery, 310 East 4th St., Austin, Texas; manufacturer and distributor Blue Bug Balm for a famous poultry remedy.

"After meals gas would form, gnawing pains would start in the pit of my stomach and I would stay up until it seemed like I would burst. I couldn't half sleep and would just worry through the night, getting up mornings feeling worse than when I went to bed."

"Constipation and headaches added to my suffering and my burden of misery was hard to bear. I was so thin and weak I could hardly walk and was compelled to give up my work entirely. Feeling like I would soon be gone, I lost all hope of every being well again."

"This was three years ago and Tanlac was brought to my notice through friends and neighbors. To say I'm thankful doesn't half way express my gratitude, for Tanlac brought me the first positive and complete relief I had known in years."

"In a week or ten days I was much improved. My appetite picked up more and more, my digestion got better and I began to take on weight and strength. So I kept up the treatment for six or eight weeks and by that time I was absolutely well in every way and my weight had gone up from 131 to 141 pounds, and I now weight 145, a gain of 14 pounds. I sleep like a log nights, am brimful of energy, and walk miles every day without feeling weary. There are not many men of my age more hearty than I am now. Tanlac saved my life and I don't believe it has an equal in the world."

West Siders Fail to Show Up and Forfeit Game, 1-0

JOHNNY NOBLE'S STARS LOSE 13-4

West Side Manager Unable To Round Up Team

THE WEST SIDERS didn't feel like playing ball in the Texaco League yesterday afternoon, and when the umpire at Lakeshore field called "play ball," the Terminal team was given an empty 1 to nothing victory. West Side's manager was on hand, and said he was unable to round up his team for the game.

This makes the standing of the league as follows:

Team	G.	W.	L.	Pct.
Central Area	9	5	4	.556
North Side	10	5	5	.500
Terminal	11	5	6	.455
West Side	7	1	6	.143

After the league game was given to the Terminal men, Johnny Noble, ever ready to start something, rounded up a team to play five innings against the Terminal crew. The decision went to Terminal, 13 to 4, but the players insisted it was a good game all the same.

Palmer pitched for the "Noble Stars," with Kaine doing the muck work. Tommy Morgan hoisted the apple for the Terminal nine, with Newcomer and Donaldson doing the catching.

Terminal started scoring early, running across four runs in the first inning, following it up with another run in the second inning, two in the fourth and a deluge of six counters in the final inning. The "Noble Stars" managed a score in the third and tried to come back with a trio of runs in the fifth.

And Now It's Music With Your Swimming

THROW away the water wings. Gettle, and hire a jazz orchestra. That is, if you want to learn to swim, for that's the latest way.

Instructor Conway over at the Plaza may be seen one of these days sawing away at a fiddle while his pupils rhythmically go through their strokes. The picture accompanying shows how it's done, this being snapped in the gymnasium of an eastern school where a large class of girls were absorbing their first lesson. The theory is that soothing music inspires confidence and develops grace. Music, Conway may be telling his pupils one of these days, not only enables the pupil to learn swimming more quickly but also "much more gracefully."

However, latest report is that Milton Goss hasn't yet installed any jazz orchestras on the "shady banks" of the Plaza natatorium.

TECHNICAL K. O. GIVEN AMERICAN

By FRANK GETTY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
NEW YORK, July 25.—In agony of body and spirit, the vortex of a maddest throng that howled and cheered and jeered Georges Carpentier made one last gallant gesture before he passed, probably forever, from the prize ring that has been his stage for more than 16 years.

His claim of foul disallowed, although he was bent nearly double from a terrible left smash in the groin, Georges, unable to defend himself, motioned to Gene Tunney, his conqueror, to come on and deliver the coup de grace.

Technically Knocked Out
But among the pandemonium and helpless confusion of that fifteenth round of the international light heavyweight contest which went to Tunney on a technical knockout, his climax was denied him. The ring was filled with seconds as Andy Griffin raised the American's hand, signifying victory, and Carpentier, crying out with pain through lip that were mangled and bruised, was declared out—on his feet. He slumped to the floor, sobbing, a beaten man, but beaten at the end by a blow that landed unintentionally below his belt and brought on one of the most thrilling scenes of recent ring history, a bizarre description and swilling of those that never to be forgotten second round of the Dempsey-Tyrro fight a year ago.

Police had to leap into the ring and forcibly restrain the Frenchman's manager, Francois Descomps, who would have torn the trunk from his fighter to show that the blow that sent Carpentier writhing down was a foul one.

Crowd Forgets Tunney
Spectators lost their heads and clambered through the ropes and over the press tables. Everyone screamed and shouted at once, but no one heard. And two stalwart bluecoats carried Georges, apparently still in frightful agony, from the ring to his dressing room, while Tunney, who had beaten his man, was almost forgotten.

The magnificence of Carpentier had drawn 43,000 persons, including many women, stage celebrities and society folk from the summer homes of Long Island where the Frenchman was made welcome, to see the bout.

The fight was a poor one, save for the tenth round, when Tunney sent the Frenchman to the canvas three times, and each time Georges fought back and was actually getting stronger at the end of the fight, when the dramatic climax came.

"Faker!" Says Tunney
It was towards the end of the fourteenth round, Georges had rushed Tunney to the ropes. He missed with a left and swung half way around, wide open, his back slightly towards the referee. Tunney sank a left hook into Carpentier's body, apparently below the belt. A cry of "Oh!" burst from the Frenchman's lips as he sank down, clutching his groin.

Tunney, bewildered, walked to his corner, a sarcastic smirk on his lips. He muttered one word: "Faker!"

Andy Griffin, referee, could not have seen the blow. He had no way to judge where it landed, as Georges' back was to him.

Battling Siki Sulks On N. Y. Honeymoon

NEW YORK, July 25.—It was all a mistake. Mrs. Battling Siki is not white after all.

Yes, she has fair hair but that was bleached, and her fair skin, in contrast to the pitch blackness of her Senegalese spouse, is that of an actor.

Bob Levy, the boxer's manager, explained matters this afternoon and said that Lillian Weiner, who was married to Siki yesterday at the municipal building here, is the daughter of a Memphis negro.

Siki and his bride sulks in their honeymoon hotel today and refused to come out and talk about it.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

Mrs. Cottontail, Curlew, mother, was sleeping house the day he went off to spend the afternoon and all his money at Happy, Go-Lucky Park. If she could find him, she would tell him a, down times, and, as she said, there he was, off galivanting about the city, she needed him the most. She needed him to bring the tack-hammer, and she needed him to hold the newspaper, and she needed him to go to the store for more soap, and she needed him for everything. And there he was, off, having a good time and not once thinking that he might be of use. The more tired Mrs. Cottontail got the cruder she got and she got talking out loud to herself. "I do wish that Mr. Zip and his park were at the bottom of the sea," she sighed. "And Nancy and Nick and everybody, and everything in the park. Then maybe Curlew would stay at home sometimes when he's needed and not off spending good money on trash." She forgot how well she liked to have him, sometimes, and go to the park with the family for a day's rest and fun. But she wasn't any different from other people, after all, for some way or other when people are tired and busy they always think other people have no right to have any fun. But as for Curlew, I do think he'd no business going off and not helping in the morning when she had so much to do. If he had just waited— But there— This story is beginning to sound like a lecture and this is no place for lectures. Well, anyway, while Mrs. Cottontail was scolding and scolding, the doorbell rang. There she was on top of a ladder with a curtain in one hand trying to get it fixed on a curtain pole. She had to put the curtain down while she answered the door. It was Mr. Stamp, the postman, bringing the mail. She put the mail on the hall table and went back to her work, grumbling about days she expected letters and nothing came and the very day she was so busy a all, didn't she have to stop and go to the door. Then she went back to her curtain hanging. "Where's that brass ring I had in my hand?" she said. "Where is it? I'd like to know. There were seven and now there are only six. Now the curtains won't match! Oh, dear! Did I ever anybody have so much trouble?" She put up the last curtain as well as she could and then went to get dressed and then she got supper. Curlew came home hot and tired and happy just in time. And after that he went to bed. "Where's that brass ring, Ma?" he said. "I saw it in your pants today. Will you fix 'em, please. I caught them on a nail." "Sure I will, Curlew," said Mrs. Cottontail kindly, for after all she wasn't really cross at all, and she loved Curlew like everything. So Curlew went to bed and Mrs. Cottontail did the dishes and then sat down to read Curlew's room. "Why, I declare, what's this?" she cried, feeling in one of the pockets and hauling out a brass ring. "Why, I declare, it's that curtain ring I lost today." I wonder where he found it! And the good rabbit lady went at once and slipped it on the pole and fixed her curtain right. CHILD'S STORY OF THE HUMAN RACE

By UNCK RAY

A SPLIT OVER CHRISTIAN POPES

Fewer, while all went with the pope at Avignon. They enjoyed living in the "little city" in Southern France. The French liked to have them here. They thought it an honor to have the pope stay in their country. After 70 years, however, a pope began to worry about being away from Rome. He remembered it had always been the custom to rule the church from that city. So at last he moved back. When that pope died, the cardinals met to choose a new pope. Most of the cardinals were French, so they wanted a Frenchman. While they were talking, however, they heard a voice outside. It was an angry crowd of Italians. They shouted: "Name an Italian pope!" The cardinals were afraid and did as the crowd wished. A few weeks later a group of cardinals met outside of Rome. They said the election had not been right. They chose another man to be pope. He called himself Clement the Seventh. The other pope was known as Urban the Sixth. He would not quit the office and stayed in Rome. Clement went to Avignon. For years after that the Christian church was divided. Some said Urban was the rightful ruler, others said Clement. The pope at Avignon had on his side France, Spain and Scotland. The pope at Rome was backed by Italy, Germany and England. After 32 years of this dispute, the cardinals of Europe met in Pisa, Italy. They decided that both popes should quit office, and named a new pope, Alexander the Fifth. This might have settled the question, but both the others wanted to keep their power. Instead of two popes, there were now three who claimed the office! It took years more for this tangle to be made straight, but at last the Christian world looked only to a single pope. He ruled from Rome.

BROWNIES DEAD

Creator of Famous Folk Passes in Canada

NEW YORK, July 2.—The man who made the "Brownies"—those little folks with long legs and round bodies who have lived in juvenile fiction for thirty years—died today in the home he called "Brownie Castle," near Granby, Quebec, according to word received by friends here. He was Palmer Cox, author and illustrator who first won fame by the "Brownies" he wrote in California in 1893. His aim was to furnish humor for children that was not of the slapstick variety. He was unmarried. Sometimes a man has so much of his credit he can't pay. Nobody knows why wives seem to have more relatives than husbands.

"Fightin' Parson" Appeals For Law Enforcement in Jefferson County in Talk Here

CROWD OF 1,200 HEAR MINISTER

'Moral Issues' Talk Appeals To Audience

Dinner pail men of the labor unions were clearly predominant in the crowd that heard Rev. K. C. Minter laud H. F. Baker for sheriff and point out why he considered him a better man for the place than either T. H. Garner or A. B. Miles, here last night.

The address was advertised as pertaining to "moral issues" of the Jefferson county political campaign, but was concentrated on law enforcement as seen in the claims of the three contestants for the sheriff's office.

Speaker Is Applauded
Rev. Minter drew scattering applause in his opening remarks when he emphasized that he was not speaking to any political cross section and not stressing any creed. He drew more applause when he insisted that law enforcement was the country's prime need, but when he began to abandon abstractions and launch into praise of Baker, he was turned on by "Fightin' Parson," Baker, and "Give it to him."

The crowd, fully 1,200 strong, cheered the speaker when he dwelt at great length on what was termed the "present lack of co-operation between city and county officers in both Port Arthur and Beaumont." Against Garner, the incumbent, Rev. Minter said he had no misgivings, but added that he need not be allowed "to grow to a chair" in Beaumont after eight years of tenure in office.

Record Is Reviewed
When Rev. Minter told the crowd that he had a letter in his coat pocket from Port Arthur's chief of police telling of Baker's co-operation as constable by "night and day," the remark was roundly applauded.

Rev. Minter then gave A. B. Miles, third candidate for sheriff, other than that his failing to serve a full term as chief of police here should not entitle him to promotion to supervision of all law enforcement in Jefferson county.

The Texas rangers, the men "with six-inch belts, about 60-pounds of cartridges on each hip, and with six-shooters," were given a thorough wallop by the Tyler county minister.

The rangers were termed as "outside men who care nothing for God or man," by Rev. Minter in telling of rangers coming to Silsbee "from God only knows where" several years ago to enforce the open port law. He was in constant danger of being arrested by rangers at Silsbee during the open port law commission, Rev. Minter said.

"I had only to stand on the street corner and talk for half a minute and one of them would be in my shadow within two minutes, waiting for me to say something and arrest me. And I was only telling the boys to respect the law, and not do anything rash."

Caustic remarks about the rangers brought applause whenever opportunity was given.

Introduced by Godbey
Among those seated on the truck parked in the middle of Austin avenue from which Rev. Minter spoke, were Baker and Rev. Godbey, the latter adding "That's so" at intervals, to the speaker's remarks about law enforcement. Rev. Minter, scheduled to start speaking at 8:30, arrived a bit late from Port Neches and it was 9 o'clock before the speaking began. Rev. Godbey, summoned from the crowd by Henry Maitre, did the introducing. An improvised band kept the crowd in good spirit until the speaker arrived with "It Ain't Gonna Rain No Mo'" two or three times, and other popular hits.

Rev. Minter, who is scheduled to speak at Nederland and at Beaumont today, arrived looking as though he had been through one battle and ready to launch into another. His "dog-try to re-elect a sheriff who has served eight years. This is the poorest sort of political propaganda. Garner is not my enemy, and I'm not charging evil things; but I'm merely saying Garner's record is not above reproach." Rev. Minter said.

Minter Says Ministers Pledged to Candidate

Turning then to Baker's record as constable in Port Arthur for the past six months, Rev. Minter read figures showing that during that period Baker has made 1,068 arrests and secured 500 convictions.

Four went up from the audience when Rev. Minter, referring to a press account in The News Thursday setting forth endorsement of A. B. Miles, former chief of police, by a local refinery in his candidacy for sheriff, as a method which passed out some years ago.

Points Out Records
"So far as I know, Miles is a splendid gentleman. He was once chief of police in Port Arthur, but didn't finish out the term. Is he worthy of being promoted to law enforcement of the entire county?" Minter flung at the audience, adding, "I know who you'll vote for if you make an honest comparison of records."

Telling of the meeting of the ministers in Beaumont Thursday, Rev. Minter said a Beaumont attorney asked if they thought Baker would enforce the open port law, if it became his duty as sheriff to do so, and to this question, Rev. V. A. Godbey, pastor of the First M. E. Church, South, Port Arthur, replied that Baker would enforce all laws.

"Labor people are just as truly law abiding as any class in the world," Rev. Minter declared.

Rev. Godbey, who introduced Rev. Minter here Thursday night, interjected the speaker at this point, saying that the question grew out of a complaint that Sheriff Garner did not use his deputies in law enforcement in Jefferson county, but imported rangers.

Scathing attack upon Texas rangers was then launched by Rev. Minter.

"They are outside men who care nothing for God or men, brought in to run the country to suit themselves," Rev. Minter said. "If a sheriff's department takes charge of law enforcement, citizens will get a square deal, but the town is up against a hard proposition when rangers come in. Far better for a sheriff that will enforce the law," the Woodville minister said.

Setting forth again in conclusion that he came representing no civic, religious, fraternal or any other kind of an organization, Rev. Minter pleaded for all who desire to see justice, righteousness and harmony law and order set up in Jefferson county to cast a united vote in Saturday's elections for H. F. Baker for sheriff of Jefferson county.

Quinn Denies Attempt To Change Court Bill

What he termed "last minute election propaganda" to defeat him, B. E. Quinn, candidate for county judge today refuted a purported rumor to the effect that when Quinn was in the legislature he tried to make the bill creating the Port Arthur city court read so as to make the office appointive instead of elective.

"The cold facts in the case are Representative Merriman and myself received the Port Arthur court bill as drafted by the city commission here. The bill as we received it read the office should be appointive for judge of the court. We changed the bill as far as to make the office elective, despite the provision of the commission which wanted it appointive."

"The bill to make the judgeship elective passed the house through my and Merriman's sponsorship. When the bill reached the senate it was changed to make the office appointive because of the influence of the city commission of Port Arthur, which convinced the upper house of the merits of their claim," Quinn said.

B. B. JOHNSON DENIES SOLICITING GARNER VOTE

Refuting charges he said had come to his ears that he had canvassed Port Arthur in the interest of Sheriff Tom Garner, B. B. Johnson, candidate for Jefferson county judge in the primary election, tomorrow, told representatives of the News today that "I was in Port Arthur in the interest of B. B. Johnson's campaign only."

"All the candidates in the race for county sheriff are my very good friends; I have solicited no votes for any one of them, either in Port Arthur or elsewhere, and I want to take this method of flatly denying the report that came to me last night."

Vote For W. E. Davenport of Franklin School, Port Arthur, Texas, For County Superintendent Of Schools

Twelve years successful experience in public schools of Texas as principal and supervisor.

The County Superintendent's jurisdiction extends over the whole county in very important administrative duties.

- 1. Makes all census rolls for department of education.
- 2. Makes all transfers.
- 3. Holds teachers institutes.
- 4. Appoints County Board of Examiners.
- 5. Enforces certificate law.
- 6. Through County School Board apportions the county available school fund.
- 7. Nominates County Probation Officer.

Not only does the County Superintendent serve the whole county, but last year from the county available school fund the following sums were paid the County Superintendent's office, which would have been apportioned to: 1 Beaumont $890.29, 2 Port Arthur $905.02, 3 South Park $177.23.

Since being created twenty-one years ago, this office has been held continuously by Beaumont teachers, for the past six years by the present incumbent, Miss Mary Sandell. Why not give Port Arthur one County Superintendent out of six?

700 PEOPLE TO BE BAPTIZED IN POOL

COLUMBUS, Ohio, July 23.—A strange combination of religious fervor and reckless pleasure is on tomorrow afternoon's bill at the Indiana Amusement park.

While the other concessions of the park run wide open, the big swimming pool will be cleared of bathers for what is expected to be the largest single baptism in history.

Seven hundred persons will present themselves for complete immersion, thus avowing their faith in the teachings of the late Pastor Russell—that "millions, now living will never die."

The service will climax a week of inspirational meetings here attended by approximately 15,000 members of the International Bible Students' association.

THE COUNTY JUDGE'S RACE

Should a Man Be Elected to That Important Office Who Pays No Taxes?

The taxpayers of Jefferson County will go to the polls Saturday to elect a county judge and other officers. The county judge is chairman of your Board of Equalization that fixes the values on your property for the next two years.

You have three men to select from. Who will be your choice?

Representative B. E. Quinn, who served you four years in the Legislature made a record that even his political enemies have complimented him on. He believes in Jefferson County. Has lived here for 22 years and is a large property tax payer, while the present county judge owns no real property in the county and does not assess for taxes his automobile, and pays no taxes except the State license fee and poll tax.—adv.

TO THE MEN AND WOMEN OF PORT ARTHUR

It seems strange, but nevertheless a fact, that not one single defect can be found in my five years' service as the County School Superintendent by political opponents to disparage my success. Hence, some are resorting to erring rumors, and misleading statements, in an attempt to undermine the interest of Port Arthur friends.

1. I have lived in Jefferson County ten years, and my opponent, Mr. W. E. Davenport, has lived here two years, but never one time have I appealed to a voter other than on my successful record, my schooling, and my qualifications to fill the position.

2. Rumor is to the effect that I anticipate changing Port Arthur's Probation Officer. Mr. B. A. McGlachlin was nominated by Supt. G. M. Sims of Port Arthur, and appointed by the Commissioners' Court. I have not been and would never be a party to any attempt to induce the court to change Port Arthur's Probation Officer, because I consider Mr. McGlachlin one of the ablest men in Texas in the handling of delinquent child welfare. The statement that the County Superintendent nominates the Probation Officer is not in accord with the law governing this appointment.

3. The Texas School Law, acts of 34th Leg. Chapter 36, Sec. 3—states that the County Board of Trustees apportions the State and County available fund. The County Superintendent's salary comes from these two sources alone. Any attempt on my part, or any succeeding superintendent to take this salary—$2500—from any other source, would be a violation of the Texas School Law. Last year Beaumont received her twelve dollars per school child—State Available School Fund—Port Arthur received her twelve dollars but the Common School Districts had the major portion of my salary deducted which lowered their rate to $11.25 per school child. Would it be correct to state that Beaumont and Port Arthur pay the major portion of my salary?

I have made the race for re-election alone on my record and merits—but I could not pass unchallenged the advertisement of today's Enterprise, and certain rumors floating around Port Arthur. If my work be satisfactory, I ask for your vote and support in tomorrow's election.

MARY SANDELL
County School Superintendent.
